Dear Parents/Guardians

Growing up is tougher than ever for our children. You want them to succeed and be happy, but in order to do so they must become confident when facing the temptations of peer pressure and when learning how to make the most of their abilities. So how can you help them without shadowing their every move? The simple answer is simple. You can enrol them onto classes at your local Matt Fiddes Martial Arts School.

How can we help? Here at Matt Fiddes Martial Arts, we work with local schools to build an original programme that is linked to your child's academic achievement and life skills. We have been working on this programme for the past 12 years; helping thousands of children and parents to achieve their goals. Many people do not realise the values that Martial Arts can teach. Your child will:

- Learn how to defend themselves against bullying or abduction
- Learn the importance of self-worth and self-control
- Understand that they can work with others to achieve their goals
- Value their time at school and excel
- Grasp the concepts of respect for themselves and others
- Master their mental and physical capabilities
- Have fun while learning something productive
- Learn how to resist negative peer pressure

I am sure you will agree, our children also need more physical activity to build strength, confidence and fitness, and to help avoid potentially becoming 'couch potatoes', which can seem desirable at a young age.

Our instructors are highly experienced and fully qualified to work with children; and their priority is to ensure your child has a fantastic and worthwhile experience. They are all regularly CRB checked.

We are currently running a new beginner class in the area and have limited places available. If you are interested in furthering the education of your child in the areas specified, please call us on 0800 035 0062 or TEXT Punch mf04 to 60066 and take the first step.

With respect,
